In addition to these programs, all schools throughout the district continue to provide the following services and events to address bullying prevention efforts:

Pupil Personnel Services Teams (social workers, psychologists, guidance counselors and prevention educators) provide: individual/group counseling, monitoring of at-risk students, classroom presentations and lessons to address harassment, bullying, anger management, personal safety, in addition to providing resources for community members, families, students and staff.

Events including guest speakers, assemblies, classroom presentations, anti-bullying writing and poster contests and partnerships with School Resource C.O.P.E Officers from the S.C.P.D. 3rd Precinct are initiatives that are arranged on both building- and district-levels.
